SERVICEMAN'S CORNER:

Hi, gang. Only one letter this time. But it contains a genuine beef which I think some of you will agree with--while others will resent it. In keeping with our usual policy of printing what you boys send us (unless you request non-printing) here is the letter:

Somewhere in Korea
Dear Rocco: Sept. 10,'51:

Just received your latest copy of the Byline mailed to me, and I really enjoyed every word of it, as I always do.

Things are going pretty smooth over here as yet, but we are expecting the "worst". One thing I have noticed about newspapers all over the country--that is news of the Infantry. One reads the paper and it's either the "Infrantry or the Marines are fighting this war!" What I would like to know is this; where would the Infantry, the Marines, the Airforce, and all the other Units be, if it wasn't for the Engineers??? Without the Engineers to build the bridges and keep the supply routs open, there wouldn't be any fighting forces over here. And what do we get for building the bridges, etc? A pat on the back--and "Good Luck" or "Good work, men". No Infrantry badges, regardless of the work we do, and I believe we have done quite a bit of it. And what else do we get? "Nice going, men!" They say the Infantry is the backbone of the army--well, what of the Engr. Combat Battalion?? They are doing the work of THREE men--working like mules to keep the supplies going to the front!

Enclosed is a picture of a Defile, where we were widening it, and had just blown a wall out. Hope the picture makes it clearer--what a Defile is, I mean.

Could you please send me Don Walton's address? Thanks, and goodbye for now.

* * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * *

Well, Jim---your argument is the same as the world over. Take the Navy C.B.'S for instance---how often do you hear from them, or about them?? And yet, you hear constantly that the "Navy landed" on such-and such a beach--etc. etc. No one thinks to mention that quite often the C.B.'s have landed long ahead of them---and the same thing goes for every branch of the Service. Take the paper work for instance. Some poor guy stuck in a stuffy office is wearing his brains thin, keeping the stuff rolling out to you guys. Does he get any badges or medals? Nope. But he sure gets hook if he makes one little mistake in his calculations and so forth. History has said that "Might Is Right"---well, I think it should be changed to read "Might is Publicized!" The old saying "It pays to advertise" is true in any walk of life--even when it comes to fighting a war! So--you hear about the publicized branches of the Service, while the others are almost forgotten. 'Twas ever thus! Your Editor.

IN REGARDS SPEEDING ON SAN BRUNO AVE.:

It has come to our attention that some of the fellows here in Brisbane, and some who are strangers here--are using San Bruno Avenue as a speedway. Now that school has started it's Fall Term--we think it is unwise and extremely foolhardy of anyone to use that street in particular as a speedway. One family we know of has had their family car smashed into, on two different occasions---and that was while the car was parked out in front of their house! One of those days, one of you speeders is going to hit a child on that street. Nothing in this world can save you from a manslaughter charge--or even worse. And by even worse, I mean the fact that forever after you will have it on your conscience that YOU killed or maimed a child! Have you ever talked to anyone who has been guilty of taking another human's life--even by "accident"? I have--and that person finds it almost impossible to live with himself. Another thing---if you are "speeding"---how in the world can you hope to get away with a simple manslaughter charge--when you will know in your own heart that it is MURDER? There is no excuse for it. You are young--why not stay that way. Don't age yourself by fifty years by taking another human life! Have you ever stopped to think how you would feel if, some day in the future, YOU were living quietly on a residential street--and out in the front yard, or on the sidewalk, or crossing the street--you looked up and saw your small child--with an automobile speeding full-tilt down upon him or her? Or how about right now--today----what if your kid brother or sister is coming home from school---and you, or one of your friends, runs him or her down with a speeding automobile? Look at the other fellows side of the question--slow down! To quote a well-known slogan--"DRIVE CAREFULLY. THE LIFE YOU SAVE MAY BE YOUR OWN!"

SHARK DERBY HOLDS BEAUTY CONTEST:

Resulting from the recent furor in the Mrs. America competition--the Shark Derby Beauty Contest committee have decided to let the beauties pick their own queen.

The contest will be held Sunday, Sept 23rd, at the San Mateo County Fair. Each contestant will cast one vote for anyone except herself. Even the panel of three judges will be named by the competitors from their own ranks. Co-sponsors of the event are the San Mateo Lions Club, and the Coyote Point Yacht Club. The winner of the beauty contest will be awarded many merchandise prizes and will share the throne of King Neptune at the fifth annual running of the Coyote Point Shark Derby, only shark fishing competition in the United States--to be held Sunday, Sept. 30.

COMMUNITY CHEST DRIVE SET FOR OCT.:

The Red Feather Campaign for the San Mateo County Community Chest Drive will soon be here again. San Mateo County has a total of $361,250.00 to raise if the agencies it represents are to survive.

One of the agencies supported by the San Mateo County Community Chest is the VISTING NURSES ASSOC. OF SAN MATEO COUNTY.

How do you get in touch with a Visiting Nurse? Simply call the office nearest you:--(Burlingame, DIamond 3-2769), or your Community Chest headquarters, FIreside 5-3518.

Incidentally, this is only one of 15 Red Feather Agencies, supported by the citizens during the yearly drives.

BAYSHORE ACCIDENT:

Once again Bloody Bayshore has taken it's toll--this time injuring three persons. The accident happened during the peak traffic hours on Bayshore Hill, just north of Brisbane, on Tuesday evening of this week. The California Highway Patrol reported that Walter C. Trottin's car swerved into the path of George D. Natali's car, because of some mechanical difficulty. Neither party involved was a resident of Brisbane.

RUSTIC COURAGE-by Elizabeth Alice Theis:

PART SIX: The storm had carried destruction everywhere. Chickens and coops had vanished only a few props left to testify they had been there. Dead hogs and turkeys floated along in the wake of swirling waters. The whole lower end of the apple orchard was a total loss; gravel and rocks and boulders had inundated it, and some of the trees had completely disappeared. Years of labor had disappeared in one night.

Only the little house on the hill remained intact. The river had cut a whole new course, through the fertile Lonnon fields, taking all in it's sweep onward.

Tight-lipped but dry-eyed Elmer Lonnon stood on the porch surveying the disaster. Nearby, wife Sadie wiped away a tear with the corner of her apron. Gone were her chickens, the pride of her heart--her favorite turkey brood-hen bobbed in a little sidewash, it's sightless eyes staring up at the sky.

Unable to witness further, she turned indoors. No matter what had happened, there was breakfast to get. Perhaps a hot cup of coffee would ease the hurt look in Elmer's eyes---.

It was then she heard her son's voice speaking to his father. "Well, dad--don't worry yourself sick about it. What's the use?" with the gay bravado of youth. "It'll be out of the question to move the rocks and boulders--even after the waters go down. But we can try somewhere else, can't we?"

Sadie could almost see his bright eyes gleaming encouragement; could visualize him patting his father's arm with the strong, firm hand of youth. She caught her breath--was that her son, her Benny, who had risen above the storm? Whose courage could not be washed away even by the raging waters?

The lad's voice continued--"I'm big enuf now to be of some help to you. Not like when you first came here. And I can plow as much ground in a day as anyone else. We'll make it--we'll just start over again somewhere else."

Sadie knew why Elmer couldn't answer. He had forced the boy to walk in his own footsteps against defeat; toward a crucial moment when all had been swept away but a house--and a boy's dauntless courage. No talk now of his hopes for an education. Not a word of reproach crossed Benny's lips--only hope, faith, and ambition.

And then Elmer spoke in his slow way, as he placed his arm aroud his son. "Nice of you to offer, son. But it won't take two of us--to take care of what's left. Go on to high school, boy."---THE END.

LOCAL DELEGATES TO LEGION CONVENTION:

Three local Legion Auxiliary members of Unit #473 enjoyed the trip to Southern California and Mexico, when the recent American Legion Convention was held in San Diego, beginning September 9th.

Local delegates of the Auxiliary included Maude Mullens (President of the local Unit), Hattie Hammond, and Wilma Shultz.

Mrs. Mullens left a few days ahead of the other delegates, as she and Mr. Mullens wished to spend a few days in Los Angeles and Hollywood before the Convention took up.

Sept. 9th, being "Tia Juana Day" at the Convention, many of the Legionaires and Auxiliary members enjoyed that day in the Mexican City of Tia Juana.

Mr. and Mrs. Mullens left for their San Bruno home on Sept. 13th, while Wilma and Hattie spent a few days hobnobbing with the hoi-polloi at Catalina, Morro Bay, and other points of interest along the way!

REPORT FROM BLAIR'S RANGERS:

Saturday night, Sept. 15th, 29 of Blair's Rangers went on field training and overnight hike, accompanied by seven members of the K-9 troop. During the night, there were a few dog-fights, with more noise than blood!

Gene and Jerry Johnson's mother visited the camp with cake for the entire company, for which we say--"Thanks, Mrs. Johnson!" Mrs. Moore came with her.

Mr. and Mrs. Peddicord, (T/Sgt. Vogler's folks) paid us a visit later in the evening.

On Sunday morning we had combat practice. Firing by squads---lots of noise and smoke! Some hits were made on all targets. Sgts. Vogler and Souza, and R.F.C. Bell fired a few rounds at a pile out in the bay, (about 1000 yards), with a Springfield---results were fair.

At present there are nine pairs of brothers in the company.

Respectfully submitted by CAPTAIN BLAIR.
